as one of the explantaions of the liberal expenditures in this case. Senator Turley was among the senators who dissented from the view that Mr. Clark could have been uninformed of the fact that money was being used to promote his election, and he made one of the most vigorous talks of the series in favor of an adverse report. Senator Clark was at the Capitol when the announcement of the action of the committee was made known. He was surprised at the result, but refused to make a statement until after consultation with Five of the Latter Injured by Strikers his friends and attorneys. The senator bore himself with his usual composure. His face appeared somewhat flushed, but his voice was calm and his manner collected and he discussed other business affairs as 17 nothing had transpired. He was asked: "Is there any truth in the report that you have decided to resign?"

He replied, as he did to all other questions bearing upon his case, "I cannot, at present, answer any questions bearing upon the report of the committee on elections.' After a conference with Ex-Senator Faulkner, of his counsel, the determination was reached by Senator Clark that the proper course would be to await the appearance of the committee's report containing its views on the evidence adduced during the hearing and the conclusion on which its report will be based. This, the senator's friends feel, will be preferable to issuing a statement now while the reasons for the committee's action are not officially stated. It is not believed that Senator Clark contemplates resigning his seat at this time, and it is said he has not given any consideration to the matter.

William A. Clark is sixty-one years of age, a native of Connellsville, Pa. In 1856 his parents moved to Van Buren county, Iowa, where the senator farmed and pursued his schooling. He studied law, but never practiced. In 1862 he crossed the plains, driving a team and locating at South Park, Col. Mr. Clark was one of the first to reach Bannock, Mont., on the discovery of gold there in 1863, driving an ox team. His Montana career began with merchandising. but he soon got into mining, in which the most of his vast fortune was accumulated. Mr. Clark is the largest individual owner of copper mines and smelters in the world, his principal properties being in Butte. Mont., and Jerome, A. T. He has extensive beet-sugar interests in California and a large copper-wire works at Elizabethport. N. J. He has a plantation of 32,000 acres in Mexico devoted to growing coffee, tea and tobacco and rubber. His net income for 1898 was not far from $10,000,000.

Expects to Be Vindicated.

BUTTE, Mont., April 10. - The report of the Senate committee against Clark did not create much excitement or surprise in Butte, his home, such report was generally expected, although some of his closest followers and ardent friends and newspapers had been claiming right along that a majority of the committee would be favorable to him. His son, and chief representative in the senatorial campaign received the following "Report of the committee will be adverse. Do not let this worry you. I will be vindicated either here or in Montana. Some of Clark's friends here predict that he will resign and return to Montana for

QUAY WILL SOON KNOW HIS FATE. Senate Will Take the Final Vote on the 24th of April. WASHINGTON, April 10 .- Without objection from any source the Senate to-day agreed to take a final vote on the right of M. S. Quay to a seat as a senator from Pennsylvania on April 24 at 4 p. m.

Mr. Hoar, addressing the Senate briefly on the Quay case, said that among the arguments against that construction of the Constitution which makes it the duty of the Governor to appoint a senator in certain circumstances was the one that the Legislature might fail to elect in order that the Governor might appoint. He thought there was much more force in the argument that the Legislature might fail to elect by reason of a faction which desired the election might go over to the next Legislature, in the hope that its politics would become so changed as to enable the new Legislature to elect another man. The Quay resolution was then laid aside for the day, it being announced that Mr. Burrows would speak on the subject to-

CHICAGO'S LABOR

FIGHT BETWEEN UNION MECHANICS AND NONUNIONISTS.

or Sympathizers-Squad of Police on Guard.

CHICAGO, April 10.-After two weeks of comparative freedom from strife there was a renewal of rioting to-day in the local labor war. At the new Marshall Field as at the scene of the excavations for the Western electric building, at Hefferson and West Harrison streets, serious affrays took place, the combatants being union mechanics against nonunion men who had been put to work to fill the places of discharged trades unionists. Five workmen, all said to be nonunion artisans, were injured

R. HAGEN, bruised and severely shaken JOSEPH STROM, struck with a brick and believed to be injured internally. J. SWANSON, bruised from a beating. JOHN FOSTER, struck on head and body with stones and other missiles; not injured

NONUNION MAN, name not known, said to have been rendered unconscious by a blow from a scantling in the hands of a strike sympathizer in the basement of the new Marshall Field building.

The first four were hurt while at work on the excavation for the new Western electric building, where it is declared they were stoned repeatedly during the day by sympathizers with labor unions. On the part of labor the claim was made that accounts of the rioting emanated from the headquarters of the Contractors' Council, that the said accounts, as well as the allegations as to the injuries received by nonunion men, were exaggerated and finally that no records as to the men said to have been injured were in the possession either of the police or the authorities at the county hospital. The reply of the contractors to all this was that the men injured were taken to their homes under escort by special ambulances or the patrol wagons of the police. At the Marshall Field building members of the squad of police on duty there from early morning until the workmen quit in the evening at 5 o'clock denied that anybody had been removed in an injured condition from the structure.

requests have been ignored.

FROSTBERG, Md., April 10.-A general strike of all the miners in the George's creek region has been ordered for to-morrow (Wednesday) midnight. Nearly 5.000 men are involved. The miners insist on an increase of 55 to 60 cents per ton of 2,240 pounds. They claim that they requested the operators to meet their representatives to discuss the increase, but all of their six

DE WET STRIKES AGAIN.

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE) April 9, gives a description by F. R. Burnham, the American scout with General Roberts, of the Boer trek from Kornspruit. Mr. Burnham says: "Owing to a report that the British had occupied Brandfort and were moving to Winberg the course of the convoy was altered, and the Boers pushed forward with increased speed toward Winberg. They expected cavalry pursuit every hour, and the convoy was protected with the greatest care and subtilty, the road being taken between kopies held and evacuated in succession by rear guards. The trek proceeded throughout Sunday, and on Monday morning the convoy was ten miles from Winberg.' Mr. Burnham, explaining the Boer methods of obtaining the range for rifle fire says: "One man fired successive shots and watched the dust raised by the bullets until accuracy was obtained, and he then communicated the range to his comrades. Mr. Burnham also mentions the way in which work, entrusted to men with tired horses, was immediately taken up by others with fresh animals, if occasion offered, the new comers being given instructions and the range of the men whose places they took. He was also struck by the "extraordinary fullness of the instructions given by the commanders to the men before any movement was begun." These included information as to the route to be followed, the intention of the movement, and the different rendezvous in the case either of victory or defeat. Another thing that impressed him greatly was the "total absence of leading" in some instances, every man having received instructions and carrying them out independently and as speedily as possible.

YANKEES AIDING BRITISH.

Pioneer Railway Corps Composed (Millionaires and Poor Men.

CAPE TOWN, April 10 .- One of the most efficient and popular of the irregular regiments in the English army in South Africa is the Pioneer Railway Corps. Its membership is largely American. It is composed of mine owners and mechanics, company secretaries and cowboys, rich and poorall brought together by a common sentiment and a common obligation-fair play. These soldiers and citizens are fighting for equality of opportunity-equality of opportunity on the basis of ordinary work-a-day justice and freedom. This explains why these men, a large proportion of whom are not Englishmen, even by descent, and all of whom are men of peace, should take off their coats and alternately handling a shovel and a gun, share the hardships and sorrows of war on the British side.

There is no pecuniary inducement to enlist in the Pioneer Corps. The pay is five shillings a day. Men who are earning £5,000 a year are among the enlisted men. Companies are commanded by consulting engineers of international reputation and by mining managers who draw the salaries of ambassadors. They have given up luxury and good living to do their duty in the battlefield. As leading uitlanders they must show a worthy example to the vast industrial community in whose interest, irrespective of race, England is sacrificing blood and treasure.

The Pioneer Corps was organized by Louis I. Seymour, an eminent American consulting engineer, who has lived in Johannesburg for many years. The folly of the Pretoria oligarchy in refusing to recognize such men as citizens is something to be wondered at. For several weeks after the organization of the Pioneer Railway Corps, their camp was pitched at Stellenbosch. Subsequently the men were brought into Cape Town. Morning, noon and night they were kept hard at it making steel bridges, iron girders, trestles, portions of railway lines and all the paraphernana of a railway corps. Suddenly the order came, and they were entrained for the north. They are now doing splendid work south of Kimberley and with Lord Roberts in the Free State. They are practical men-not jingoes. They are not warped by sentiment or partisanship. They are on the spot. They know the facts, and their action speaks for itself. WANTS 30,000 HORSES.

Britain Contracts for a Large Number of Sound American Animals. NEW YORK, April 10 .- The Journal and Advertiser to-morrow will say: "A contract to buy 30,000 to 35,000 horses for the British government was about completed in this city yesterday. The horses are for cavalry regiment and the artillery service in South Africa and they will cost several million dollars. This is the largest single order of the kind ever placed in this country. The United States army's strict requirements in size, breed and soundness. This limits the choice practically to the breeds reared in the producing centers of Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa. "Buffalo has been selected as the point of inspection where the horses will be brought by the contractors, who will act as the British government's agents. When accepted at Buffalo the horses sufficiently rested will be shipped to this city and loaded on transport vessels in lots of about one thousand each. The British army's Too Much Snow in St. Louis for a purchasing agent will go to Buffalo to-day to inspect the delivery yards there. He hopes to get his horses at the rate of 5,000 a week."

Did Mr. Macrum Lie? WASHINGTON, April 10.-United States Consul Hay, at Pretoria, has responded to the inquiry addressed to him by the department respecting ex-Consul Macrum's building, Adams and Clark streets, as well | charge that the official mail of the consulate was tampered with. Mr. Hay reports that after a careful search he has failed to find in the files of the consulate the slightest evidence to support the statement. The consul further reports that there is absolutely no interference, so far as he has been able to ascertain, with any of the official communications, either telegraphic or mail, which pass between the Department of State and the consulate.

Lost No Securities. NEW YORK, April 10 .- Dispatches from Cape Town, via London, telling of the disappearance of negotiable securities amounting to £130,000 belonging to the Mutual Life Insurance Company, were received with reservation by officials of the company to-day. A representative of the company declared to-day that no such sum of securities or money had been deposited in South Africa. The company has about $100,000 on deposit, evenly divided in the banks of the Orange Free State and the Transvaal. This money is used for business purposes.

JONES IS SATISFIED.

Democracy's Chairman Thinks His Party Will Win.

NEW YORK, April 10.-Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, came to the city from Washington to-night for a brief visit. While he is here on a business session primarily he will in all likelihood meet and talk with prominent Democrats, but no conferences have as yet been arranged. James S. Oliver, sergeant-at-arms of the national Democratic convention, met Senator Jones. After a short talk Mr. Oliver announced that he and Mr. Jones would go to Washington to-morrow and active arrangements for the convention would begin at once.

Senator Jones said that the expressed purpose of Admiral Dewey to run for President had not unduly excited him or any other Democrat. In fact he thought the Dewey boom would be short lived and that under no circumstances could it interfere with Mr. Bryan's candidacy. When asked what he thought of the anti-Bryan sentiment which was said to be growing up especially among the Democrats of the East, Mr. Jones said: "I have heard something of anti-Bryan conferences and such things, but I doubt if there is anything to it. It is my belief that Mr. Bryan will be nominated on the first balot and that there will be no opposition of any weight to him in the convention." Mr. Jones expressed himself as being extremely well satisfied with the prospects for Democratic success. So long as he remains chairman of the national committee, he said, headquarters would be maintained in Chicago, but he said the convention might make a change in the programme by substituting Washington for the Western city. He did not believe that headquarters would be opened in this city, though such a thing was possible. When asked as to what the convention would do as regards the platform, Mr. Jones said the Kansas City convention would not recede from any position heretofore assumed. though it was a matter of conjecture as to what addition or changes might be

FOOD FOR THE STARVING.

Thoroughly Dried Corn to Be Shipped to India at Once.

WASHINGTON, April 10.-In view of the recent decision of the controller of the treasury that the unexpended amount of the sum appropriated by Congress in 1897 to charter two vessels to carry foodstuffs to India was available (Secretary Hay having decided that the present famine was a continuation of that of 1897), Judge Advocate Lemly to-day telegraphed Pay Director Deniston, in charge of the naval pay office at New York, to proceed with dispatch to ascertain the terms on which he ould charter a vessel to carry out to India the foodstuffs which had been collected at New York. He was told to secure tenders from owners of both steamships and sailing vessels, though probably a steamer is preferred. Dr. Klopsch also was telegraphed to put himself in communication with the pay office in order to forward the

NEW YORK, April 10.-The cargo will consist entirely of corn, thoroughly dried, so as to withstand the five violent changes of climate which it will undergo en route. The quantity will be about 5,000 tons, or about 200,000 bushels, representing a cost of nearly $92,000. This amount of corn. distributed in the famine-stricken area, will save approximately half a million lives, according to the calculation of the promoters of the plan. The life-saving ship, the first of the relief fleet now planned, will sail before May 1, reaching Bombay by the middle of June, just at the critical time when food will be most needed and do the most good. The cargo thus sent on a ship authorized by our own government will be distributed by American missionaries. Headquarters will be established in Bombay immediately upon the arrival of the ship, and train loads of corn will at once be dispatched to missionary relief stations throughout the land of famine.

TO PUT HIM OUT OF MISERY.

Young Farmer's Reason for Killing a Sick Brother-in-Law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 10.-Bud Lecompte, a young farmer living in this county, walked into the home of his brother-inlaw, Hiram Stafford, this afternoon, and fired three bullets into Stafford, who had been sick in bed for a month past, killing him instantly. The murder is a mysterious one. The neighbors believe Lecompte is crazy, though he had shown no previous evidence of insanity. Lecompte walked into the room where the sick man lay and said to him:

"You are going to die anyway. "I will ust put you out of your misery. With this he fired thre bullets from Winchester rifle into Stafford's head. Albert Jefferson, on whose farm the shooting occurred, arrested Lecompte and lodged him in jail here. The murderer maintains that Stafford was hopelessly ill, and that he killed him only on this account. Stafhorses must conform practically to the ford married Lecompte's sister.

ARRESTED AT BALTIMORE.

Charles O. Winold, Accused of Poisoning His Family at Cincinnati.

BALTIMORE, April 10.-Charles O Winold was arrested to-day and is held for the Cincinnati authorities on the charge of attempting to poison his wife and children in the latter city on March 30. Winold when arrested, gave an assumed name, but when questioned by the detectives recited a partial history of the causes which led up to the crime with which he is charged. He said that his wife had obtained a divorce from him in Minneapolis; that, under disguise, he had kidnaped his four children, and took them to Marietta, O. After a long legal battle in Hoboken, N. J., last year, the children were returned to the custody of their mother. "I understood that my former wife is going to be married again. I would rather kill my children than that they should be placed under the care of a stepfather,' he is quoted as saying to the officers. Winold is a traveling salesman, and was from the Cincinnati police yesterday.

Winold's arrest is the outcome of the attempt, on the morning of Friday, March 30, to poison Mrs. Winold, her children and her mother, and a trained nurse. Miss Ellen Galvin, by Faltha Gillen, a domestic sent to the house, it is said, by Winold with whom she confessed to be infatuated The poison was put in the oatmeal, according to the girl's story, by Winold, who entered the house surreptitiously for that purpose, and served by her at the break fast table. Mrs. Winold refused to eat any of it.

NEW YORK, April 10 .- The New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to-day, after a lively discussion voted by a large majority to strike out of the report of the committee on periodicals derogatory references to the Rev. King, delegate-elect to the General Conference, speaking to the motion regarding Mr. Sheldon, said: "It is an awful mistake for any man to edit a daily paper, or any other paper, assuming to know what Jesus Christ would do. I think that it is nothing less than blasphemy-unintentional blasphemy, maybe, but blasphemy all the same. I, for one, protest against that style of Christian work."
